

Planning for Bird-Friendly Cities

Wednesday, May 12, 2021
7 PM EST
via Zoom

From his new book The Bird-Friendly City, Timothy Beatley, PhD, presents new ideas around how cities can reduce dangers to birds and design buildings and urban neighborhoods that make room for biodiversity. Dr. Beatley will teach us the tangible steps cities can take on behalf of birds, how urban bird conservation enhances quality of life in cities, and how bird conservation fits into the global "Biophilic Cities" movement. In addition, 5 random attendees will win a free copy of Dr. Beatley's book "The Bird-Friendly City"; please add your email into the registration form to qualify.

About Our Speaker: Timothy Beatley, PhD, is the Teresa Heinz Professor of Sustainable Communities, in the Department of Urban and Environmental Planning, School of Architecture at the University of Virginia, where he has taught for the last twenty-five years. Much of Beatley's work focuses on the subject of sustainable communities, and creative strategies by which cities and towns can fundamentally reduce their ecological footprints, while at the same time becoming more livable and equitable places.
